TUFH 2018, Post Conference workshop in August in Maastricht, the Netherlands

“Maastricht University was one of the founding fathers of The Networks Towards Unity for Health, a featured member since many years, and hosted the TUFH Conference in 1984. Hosting the 2018 TUFH post conference in Maastricht again is a great honour towards our network partners to strengthen the ties and welcome them in our home again to share and exchange their health professionals knowledge and experiences. United and committed to contribute to the improvement of health in all communities.”

“Maastricht University obviously evolved in the 40 years of her existing and since the last TUFH Conference and went through innovations that are worthwhile presenting by hosting the TUFH Conference in all its diversity. Site visits in all its variety will present Maastricht University, the Maastricht University Medical Centre (MUMC+) and the Brightlands Campus at the best and will be inspiring and contributing to the success of the conference”.

“Lifelong Learning is a privilege. There is a need for ongoing learning throughout a health professional’s career. The mission of the SHE Graduate School is to provide opportunities for professional development to health care workers involved in health professional education all around the world and to generate new knowledge about education”.
